

Claims or Claims

Claim 1: What I claim as my invention is the unique fall through design of the method, for separating impurities from fluids, such as sand particles, rust flakes, shell particles, etc.. Combined with the incorporated transparent holding pipe/trap that holds debris until purging, combined with the incorporated method of purging, by redirecting the flow of fluid to back flush the filter material.